

CHIEF, MILITARY POLICE CORPS REGIMENT

September 17, 2008

Soldiers and Civilians of the Criminal Investigation Command:

On behalf of the Military Police Corps Regiment, congratulations on the anniversary of the establishment of the Criminal Investigation Command. On September 17th, Criminal Investigation Command celebrates over a quarter century of service to our nation, serving as a valuable asset to the United States Army as a part of the larger Military Police family.

In September, both the Criminal Investigation Command and the Military Police Corps commemorate anniversaries. Both organizations are diverse in their responsibilities; however, in that diversity we join as one Regiment supporting our military family and fulfilling our responsibilities with professionalism. We take pride in the fact that our mottos are "Do What Has to be Done" and "Of the Troops and For the Troops." This year, as we reflect together on the passing of another year, we highlight the achievements of our Regiment and pay tribute to those who made the ultimate sacrifice.

Again, congratulations on another successful year.

"OF THE TROOPS AND FOR THE TROOPS"

Sincerely,

David D. Phillips
Brigadier General, US Army
